Lesson 21: Divine Future

During this audio-guided meditation experience your future now, where you and your animal companions and the animals of the world live perfectly aligned as one. There you will experience feeling a state of unity. All conversations with the animals are heard and you live in a perpetual state of blissful clarity with them. Travel to your near future, where Heaven and earth have joined.

Questions:

What was your experience of your divine future with your pets?

What did it look like?

What did it feel like?

What did it smell like?

How were you able to easily and clearly communicate with your animals?

What did they say?

What can you do now to create this reality?

Tip:

Watch for ways in your daily life to create heaven on earth for you, your pets and all the animals of the world. Sometimes simple changes like composting, recycling, re-using and volunteering at your local shelter can make a huge difference. Blessing everyone you see, people, animals and plants raises the vibration of the earth. This in turn takes all closer to a blissful state where we can all live in peace.

Reflection:

Write out how your and your pet's lives have changed over the last 21 days.

This is our last lesson for this series. It has been my honor to assist you. I hope your life and the life of your animal companions have been uplifted. I look forward to assisting you again.

Love and Abundant Blessings,

Asia
